Hi Nikhil,

Thanks for your patience. Yesterday we got the clearance to go ahead with the latest kitchen layout that you shared on 21st Dec.

Basis this approval, we need to first develop the electrical load calculations and SLDs. However, we are facing some challenges ... The layout plan and the excel provided are not tallying... When we are checking both, in some cases we can see equipment in the excel, but can't see them in the cad file & similarly we can see some equipment in the cad file but can't see it in the excel and we don't have their power requirements also.

In some cases, in the cad files, equipment do not have any switch-socket shown (& it is difficult to gauge whether it has been missed out or omitted on purpose)

Could you please recheck the drawings and excel and re-issue?

Warm Regards

Naren

Dear Sir,

Following our discussion today, it seems like there are some additional changes needed in the layout. To avoid any future misunderstandings, could you please suggest a specific standard brand or model number for the following items:

1. Bhatore Fryer - Fabricated
2. Kulfi & Rabdi Freezer Fabricated
3. Idli Steamer - Fabricated
4. Round Hot Plate for Egg Station Fabricated
5. Dosa Plate – Karama made
6. Roomali Tawa - Fabricated

Having these details will help us ensure that we're on the same page and can proceed smoothly with the project.

Nikhil

Dear sir,

I wanted to address a concern that we've been experiencing with the project. We truly value your time and ours, and we've been putting in our best effort to ensure its success.

However, we have noticed that the layout has been revised multiple times from your end. This has caused some delays and confusion on our part. We have shared the MEP layout with you several times, but it seems that only the tender docket is pending from our side. All other drawings and CAD files have already been shared with the architect.

I apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused. Currently, I am out of town, but please feel free to reach out to Sachin for any revisions or further discussions.

Regards

Nikhil
